YOLANDA URIZ ELIZALDE

Yolanda Uriz Elizalde (Pamplona, Spain, 1982) I understand Art as the discipline that creates experiences which are different from the ones in daily life, so what I pursue with my work is to find the edges of what we perceive to expand those sensorial boundaries. With a particular interest in the proximity senses (smell, taste and touch), not only on their aesthetic potential, but also on their implication in politics, gender and perception, my work is an amalgam of elements from sound art, visual arts, inspiration from science and techniques from new media-art. It materialises in installations and performances for multi sensory immersive experiences, that have been presented at festivals like Sonic Acts (NL), WRO Media-Art Biennale (PL), Kontraste (AU), STRP (NL), SPARK (USA), Todays Art (NL/RU), Oddstream (NL) etc.
