ANNA SOPHIE DE VRIES

The interaction between boredom and satisfaction is the starting point for my films. The films portray people who feel unfulfilled and scared of the void. They are searching for something to become whole again. The characters search in God, other people, parties, games, fantasies and sometimes all the wrong places. In my films, performances and music, I research various views on our mysterious reality. It brings me closer, sometimes further, from the truth.
