

THEA SCHENK

geometric abstraction

Starting point in creating my objects that are made through paintings and assemblages arises from my fascination for geometric abstract forms, such as lines and squares. One of the aspects of research is formed by fully experimenting, various materials and cloth. The canvas is worked and formed further, breaking through, reconnecting and cutting out cracks. In this way, line and rhythm are not only created by applying paint to canvas, but are expressed from the physical processing of the material.
